

Can I design my own MyOneAndOnly

MyOneAndOnly bags have today many different designs which we constantly enrich them. It is not possible for you to design your own model but you can contact us and explain what you exactly want and maybe it is a design close to our future plans. Regarding the raw materials (digital printings), show us what do you have and we will try (if it is possible) to utilize it with the best possible way.

You should understand that different bag designs need different thickness and texture materials.

We cannot define the materials' precise cutting point. Consequently you can only have a general idea of what your bag will be like when it is ready.

Raw materials or other materials which had been cut cannot be returned.

All of our bags are marked with the MyOneAndOnly sign and can get only as extra mark, if it has been asked, the client's logo or message.

Indicative positions are showed to the sketch below.
