

The raw material and its characteristics

MyOneAndOnly bags are made from digital printings on PVC. Most of these materials have been used in interior places and for short periods of time. A small percentage has been used in the outdoors but again for limited time. So it is natural in some cases to have a scratch or a mark from their previous lives. Of course these marks do not at all reduce their strength. Counter to this we believe that this is one of their main character strengths.

The same goes for the seatbelts. All of them are in excellent condition.

In any case all the raw materials received detailed conservation and care before their conversion to MyOneAndOnly even begins.

Contact us for further information or for any possible questions by sending us an email at the sales@myoneandonly.gr